

Automated Medication Management

Brussels, October 3. Europe has no uniform standard of care approach for managing all aspects of medication within the hospital setting. While some countries are further ahead than others, there are no consistent guidelines or ways to share best practice. Thus, EAHP decided to set up a Special Interest Group (SIG) to further investigate the benefits of automation medication management

The work of the SIG focused on two distinct areas, creating the European autonomous pharmacy framework and mapping the current situation in Europe, the latter having been achieved by means of this Survey that was shared with individual hospital pharmacists in Europe. The SIG is still actively working on creating the European Autonomous Pharmacy framework that will be published in Spring 2024.

The SIG conducted the Survey to analyse and assess the status of automated medication management in Europe and to identify the benefits of automation medication
