EAHP offers a package for students to be able to take part in its 21st Annual Congress taking place in Vienna, Austria, from 16th to 18th of March, 2016.

The congress brings together approximately 4.000 hospital pharmacists, healthcare influencers and other interest groups and boasts a high-level professional program including the session "A systematic approach to pharmaceutical care – what is this all about and how can it be implemented by the hospital pharmacist?" specially targeted at students. This is a highly interactive session and has been developed based on student feedback, together with the European Pharmaceutical Students' Association (EPSA).
