

Tuesday, 14 April 2015 to Wednesday, 15 April 2015

The Cancer & the Kidney International Network (C-KIN) will hold its first annual conference on 14-15 April 2015 at the Crowne Plaza Brussels - Le Palace in Brussels, Belgium. Founded in March 2014, C-KIN is the first international network of healthcare professionals, clinicians, and researchers focusing on kidney-related issues in patients with cancer. The C-KIN Annual Conference aims to improve integrated patient care by gathering professionals for networking opportunities and to exchange developments in research and education in the field of onconeurology. Featured topics include evaluation of renal function in cancer patients and renovascular safety of antiangiogenics. Abstract submission for poster presentations is open until 8 March 2015. The deadline for online registration discount is 9 March 2015. For more information on C-KIN and its upcoming conference, please visit www.c-kin.org/about-c-kin/ and www.c-kin.org/conference2015 ^[1]
