

The EAHP annual General Assembly (GA) in Budapest last weekend welcomed Iceland as its newest country member.

Eva Ágústsdóttir and Thorunn Godmundsdóttir, representatives of the Hospital Pharmacy section of the Pharmaceutical Society of Iceland presented the Assembly with a brief overview of the history and current status of the profession in their country.

The Assembly was delighted to unanimously accept their application for membership. Iceland is now the 32nd member country of EAHP.

It remains the ambition of EAHP to have membership from every country within the 47 member Council of Europe.
