

Affiliation:

Aston University

Country:

United Kingdom

1. Current Status, Position

Prof Dr Pavel Albores (MIET, FHEA) is a Professor in Operations Management and Director of the Centre for Research into Safety and Security (CRISIS) at Aston Business School.

2. Education

Prof Dr Albores received his PhD on Simulation of e-business processes from Strathclyde University (2007), where he also gained an MSc in Manufacturing Management. His first degree is in Chemical Engineering from the Universidad de las Americas-Puebla.

3. Research Area

Prof Dr Albores' major research interests revolve around the fields of simulation, operations improvement, supply chain management, emergency management and humanitarian logistics.

Conflict of interest: None

Last update: 6 July 2018