

Affiliation:

Medical University of Vienna

Country:

Austria

1. Current Status, Position

Dr Philipp Wohlfarth is a specialist in Internal Medicine at the Medical University of Vienna. He works as a full-time clinician and clinical researcher at the Department of Stem Cell Transplantation.

2. Education

Dr Wohlfarth studied Medicine at the Medical University of Vienna (2007-2013) and was thereafter trained as a Specialist in Internal Medicine (2013-2019) with a focus on hematopoietic stem cell transplantation. Fellowships in stem cell transplantation also took him to the University of Essen, Germany (2017), and the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Center, Seattle, USA (2019).

3. Research Area

Dr Wohlfarth is a principal investigator for several clinical studies in allogeneic hematopoietic stem cell transplantation, and subinvestigator on ongoing CAR-T cell trials at his university. Another focus of his research lies in organ dysfunctions and intensive care management in patients after hematopoietic stem cell transplantation.

Conflict of interest: None

Last update: 17 May 2019

---